

Artists: let's come together for a fun Plein Air day at the Artemas Ward House in Shrewsbury!

Sponsored by the Artist Guild of Shrewsbury

All are welcome to come paint for a day on the grounds of this historic landmark. Several art guilds from the area will be there. It will a great time to say hello and meet other artists who live in our vicinity.

When: Saturday, July 7th

Time: 9:00am to 3:00pm for those who prefer morning light or afternoon light

Rain date Saturday July 14th

Parking will be behind the house on the back yard.

Restrooms are available inside the Artemas Ward House.

Bring a snack, water and painting supplies. FYI, there is a great family restaurant and take out called Dean Park Pizza that is within walking distance.

There will be a free tour of the house at 10:00 AM for those who would like to see the inside and learn more about General Artemas Ward and his family's contribution to the community and the Revolutionary War.

Art share during the day - time to be determined.

A head count is needed by the curator; please RSVP Robert Wilson at rrwilson55@gmail.com or call 774-275-0827 for any additional information.

Hope to see you for a fun day of painting and good company!
